THE WHITE HOUSE

The President Showing the Effect of the Office Seekers' Raid.

NEW RULES MAY BE PROMULGATED

Some of the Delegations That Called Tcday.

OTHERS SAW THE PRESIDENT

It can be stated without question that the President is tiring of the carnival of office seeking which has been in progress from the day he entered the White House Not only is he mentally worried, but he is physically afflicted by the strain on him. He slept later this morning than any morning yet, and was not as refreshed as usual. It is stated that the public men who are pursuing him in the interest of offices for themselves and others do not even let him rest in the evening. They literally "hold him up" on all occasions, frequently during the last few days preventing him from taking his daily exercise. Senators and representatives, it is said, are the most guilty persons, because they feel that they can take liberties not accorded to others. This has all come about because of the lenient rules and the lesire of the President not to exclude himself from anybody. Unless more consideration is given to the chief executive new ules will be adopted and literally enforced This will have to be done to prevent the President succumbing to the strain, which might be dangerous at this time.

Another new rule will be promulgated to-day. It will absolutely forbid the making of addresses in presenting petitions or memorials. This takes up too much time, and is also a strain on the President. All petitions will be carefully considered with-out the emphasis of a speech and the perout the emphasis of a speech, and the peo-ple who attempt this will do no good for their cause.

Consular Appointments. There will be few appointments to third and fourth-rate places in the consular service for some time it is said on good authority. That is, no consuls will be appointed for the present. Ambassadors, ninisters and consuls general will go in slowly, as the President has time to consider them, but he does not propose to be crowded in the matter of third and fourthrate places. Other Appointments.

If the President had not been detained from his work of going over papers last night, there would have been a number of neminations today. The nomination of C. U. Gordon to be postmaster at Chicago was exclusively foreshadowed in The Star yesterday. The appointment is credited to Senator Mason.

A funny request turned up at the White House today. Alfred Wiehl of 18 Beaver street, New York, requested that a vial which accompanied his note be filled with water from a White House fauzet, the water to be used in bentiging "France Mewater to be used in baptizing "Franz Mc-Kinley Draz" in New York tomorrow night. The request was granted. The infant to be christened was born on election night. Mr. Wiehl is a friend of the baby's family.

The Delaware Judgeship. The Delaware factional fights are cropping out in the matter of the vacant federal judgeship. A few days ago a delegation from Delaware, headed by ex-Senator Higgins, called on the President and urged the appointment of W. C. Spruance to the vacancy. Today another delegation called. At the head of this delegation were Job H. Jackson, Thomas H. Slavery, Wm. S. Hillis, George T. Brown and Francis H. Hoffecker, prominent business and professional men. They presented a memorial in favor of the appointment of Col. Benjamin Nields to the vacancy. The delegation represented to the President that Colonel Nields belongs to none of the factions of the state, and is a clean, capable man. It the state, and is a clean, capable man. It is believed they made a good impression. A visit to the President from J. Edward Judge Kimball. also locked for today or morrow. His faction is backing H. H. Ward. It is not improbable that the Presdent will avoid the Addicks and Higgins factions and appoint an outsider.

The Public Pinter.

It can be positively stated that Mr. Palmer of Illinois has not been selected for public printer by President McKinley, but there is no doubt, from what is learned today, that the President is favorably clined to the Illinois man. It is said that the appointment of Mr. Palmer would be timost a certainty but for division of senti ment in Illinois ranks. Senators Aldrich and Wetmore of Rhode Island call-ed on the President today to pre-sent the case of Editor Pease of their state, who is heavily backed for public printer. Mr. Pease has a splendid assort ment of papers, which have not been pre-sented because of the rumor that Mr. Palmer would be appointed. Mr. Pease's friends have not desired to put him in a race already won. The impression received by Senators Aldrich and Wetmore this merning was that no conclusion has been reached, and that the President is open to conviction. They will now push the case of Mr. Pease with hope of being able to accomplish semething.

Recommendations for Iowa.

Senators Allison and Gear of Iowa were early callers on the President. They have the entree to a private door. Representatives Lacey and Hull of the same state were also callers. There is a vacancy in the postmastership at Montezuma, in Mr. Lacey's district, and he has recommended the appointment of J. W. Jarnagin to the He wanted to see the President or this subject. Mr. Hull was accompanied by ex-Representative Conger, who wants to go as minister to a South American reput lic, preferably Brazil, where he was sent by President Harrison.

The federal positions in Iowa have been agreed upon by the delegation, and are as follows: Geo. M. Christian of Grinnell, marshal of the southern district; Lewis Miles, district attorney, southern district; John M. Kimball of Muscatine, collector of Internal revenue, southern district; H. G. McMillan of Rock Rapids, district attorney of the northern district; Edward Knott of Waverly, marshal of the northern district J. W. Patterson of Linn county, collector of internal revenue, northern district.

West Virginia's Wants. Senator Elkins and the republican repesentatives from West Virginia saw the President this morning for the first time as a delegation. The West Virginia people have not agreed upon state appointments, but they are anxious to have E. M. Pierson appointed as consul to Tunston, England, and J. M. McCauley as assistant commissioner of pensions. Mr. Pierson is the candidate of the Potters' Association of this country. It is not known when the President will lecide upon the position of assistant cor missioner of pensions. The exclusive an-nouncement in The Star yesterday that H. Clay Evans had notified the President of his acceptance of the position of commis-sioner of pensions was confirmed at the White House today.

South Dakota Applicants.

Senator Kyle of South Dakota has a good many things to see the President about these days, and calls frequently. He was on hand today. Judge Granville G. Bennett of Deadwood wants to go as minster to Greece. J. D. Elliott of Tyndall is a candidate for district attorney of South Dakota, and has the indorsement of Senator Kyle. The appointment of some one will have to be made soon, as the term of the present incumbent expires April 3.

Some of the Other Callers. Senator Spooner and ex-Representative Butterworth were callers. Major Butterworth declared that he didn't know a thing. Ex-Secretary of the Navy Tracy was social caller. He was admitted during the cabinet meeting and was introduced to the cabinet members he has not met. It is said he is interested in the appointment of Mr. H. W. Raymond, his former private secretary, as assistant secretary of the Judge Jere M. Wilson of this city pre-sented to the President his son-in-law, Wm. Heywood, wao has aspirations to go a million tons of cre are in the mine

JAPAN OR UNCLE SAM

One or the Other is Sure to Have Hawaii.

PROBLEM OF THE VARIOUS RACES

The Japanese Are Increasing More Rapidly Than Any Others.

ANNEXATION THE REMEDY

Special Correspondence of The Evening Star. HONOLULU, February 25, 1897.

Recently I gave you some points obtained from the census of Hawaii made last Sepember. Some further details have been tabulated and published. The whole number of Mongoloid Asiatics is given at 46 .-023, which is 42.2 per cent of the whole population of 109.029. Of the remainder, 39,504, or 36.2 per cent, are Hawaiians and part Hawaiians. Europeans number 22,438, or 20.6 per cent. Of these last, over two thirds, or 15,191, are Portuguese. Americans are 3,068; British, 2,250; Germans, 1,432, and Norwegians, 378, making 7,146 SPECIAL NOTICES. Page Teutonic whites, or 6.55 per cent of the SUMMER RESORTS. Page SURURBAN PROPERTY. Page thirds, or 15,191, are Portuguese. Ameriof the whole. It is somewhat of a surprise to us, and the Chinese, there being 19,212 of the former, and 19,167 of the latter. Together these Asiatics form 53 per cent of the whole male population. Either nationality has males much in excess of the pure Ha-waiians. Fortunately these two classes of Asiatics are antagonistic to each other, and unlikely ever to combine for political as-cendancy. The Japanese, however, have 5,195 females, to 2,449 of the Chinese, and hence will multiply by births more than the latter, as well as by immigration. The Japanese are not only nearer to Hawaii than the Chinese, but are also by treaty protected from any laws to check their immigration. In six years the Chinese increased from 15,300 to 21,626, being 6,325 increase, or 29 per cent, while the Japanes increase was from 12,360 to 24,407, or near ly 100 per cent.

The Portuguese number 8,202 males to 6,989 females. They have increased 57 per cent in the six years entirely by births. They have had no immigration, and many have left for California, without bettering themselves. They are a prolific race. Teutonic whites have 4,463 males and 2,683 females. Many of these men are married to half and three-fourths white women, and some to pure natives. The same is true of many Portuguese males, their women often marrying Teutonic whites. It seems reasonable to note this distinction between these two classes of whites, although the Portuguese born here and taught English in the schools, which all are compelled to attend, become nearly indistinguishable from other whites. The Japanese Pouring In.

There is thus seen to be pending a se vere competition for the coming occupation of these islands between the white and the Asiatic races. As matters now stand the latter have an overwhelming advantage in numbers, and in facility of transportation to Honolulu. Packed in tramp steamers, they are landed here from Yoko-hama at $20 a head, often 700 to 1,000 in a single trip, making the passage in an average of twelve days. Whites can be brought here at no such prices, nor is there on your Pacific coast any such vast surplus population to draw from as Asia supplies. Our only hope for a white race, as the main population of these islands in the future, seems to depend entirely upon an early annexation to the United States. Only that event can lend the necessary stimulus to secure to us a large and rapid influx of whites. While independent, this government is debarred by treaty from any attempt to check Japanese immigration. But the United States have the power to do that for us, whenever we form a part of the Union.

creasing rate the Japanese ar now swarming in upon us it will not be fifteen years before they form two-thirds of our population. They have every in-ducement to come here. Wages are three ducement to come here. Wages are three times what they earn at home. The cli-mate is delightful. Those here send for their friends and help them over. Scores run home every month and tell what a paradise Hawaii is, and how the Japanese will coon fill up and own the country It is a pet notion of people in Japan, high and low, that the Hawaiian Islands are destined soon to become their possession.

The evidence of this prevailing idea is abundant in Japanese newspapers. parently there is nothing to prevent the realization of that result. Indeed, it may be clearly asserted beyond contradic tion, that without a very prompt and active interposition on the part of the United States, Hawaii will in a very few decades become mainly Japanese in population. Will you permit your great central outpost for dominating the Pacific thus to be made Asiatic, and your prosperous American colony thus to be smothered by the Mon-goloid hordes? Nothing can possibly prevent the Ha-wailan Islands from becoming effectually a Japanese colony within twenty years ex-cept annexation to the United States, the white immigration which would spontaneously follow that event, and a positive check upon the Japanese influx such as the United States only can admin ister. No one who knows the ambition o the Japanese people, and that love of politi-cal action which distinguishes them from the Chinese, can doubt for a moment that whenever they find themselves in a large numerical ascendancy here they will as-sert themselves and take possession of the government of this republic, electing Japanese officials. Observe that no guaranty of independence to Hawaii and no mere pretectorate could prevent a Japanese majority of the people from uniting and claiming to rule. officials. Observe that no guar-

How It Would Be Done. There would need to be no assertion

Japanese sovcreignty, or interference of the Japanese government with the independence of the republic of Hawaii. That government would only need to claim from Hawaii what could not be denied by us or lawfully prevented by the protecting states, the equal rights of her people to the franchise with other foreigners. The Japanese would then outvote the rest of us and install their own president and legislators. Who could say them nay? Japan is a strong military and naval power, and well able to enforce any not clearly unreasonable claim for the rights of her sub jects. It cannot be doubted that the ambi-tions of the Japanese in Hawaii would enjoy the fullest appropriate support from their home government, without at all vio-lating the independence of this little republic. Thus Japan would practically achieve her aim of making Hawaii a Japanese colony under Japanese control, even though nominally under United States pro-This is the menace which now, more than any other, threatens the influence of the United States in the Pacific. An immense nerce is growing up in the Pacific. It is advancing with gigantic strides toward a colossal magnitude which is to surpass any ocean commerce now existing. Ameri-ca needs to have and rightly claims the foremost place in that commerce. Her thousands of miles of coast line fronting on this ocean entitle her to that place, as the superior enterprise and ability of her people will enable her to hold it. But she cannot possibly maintain such commercial supremacy if she suffers the Hawalian group to pass into other hands. This group is the key to the North Pacific. It is the great meeting and crossing point of the main lines of Pacific traffic. It is the one great naval and commercial outpost off your vast Pacific coast, which must be either your protection or the menace of your rivals. No chances should be taken, and no time lost by America in methan and no time lost by America in making sure of this indispensable possession, beof this indispensable possession, be-the wily and slippery Asiatic has fore the wily and slippery Asiatic has gained a permanent ascendancy here.

Fresh importance is lent to this subject by the very reliable information given lately by the Japanese consul general that his legation is to be advanced to the rank of an embassy equal to that of the United States. The attitude of Japan toward Hawaii is still more emphasized by the further information that a Japanese warship will arrive in April and be permanently stationed here. Hitherto America is the only power maintaining a naval ship

Indeed she will undoubtedly send here a large cruiser of thrice the force of your little old-fashioned Adams or Alert. Why should Japan not assert herself thus? time to bestlr herself.

natural course of things to take place at cur, its necessity will become very obvious whenever an Isthmian canal shall be open-ed, and the immense trans-Pacific steam traffic from the Atlantic thereby set free begins to stream across this ocean. When that takes place, Hawaii, as the central calling port, will assume fresh importance, and will confer an immense advantage on whatever power possesses this group. To speak of no other rival power, Japan will by that time have a controlling majority of our population unless America speedily of our population unless America speeding interferes. With two-thirds of our people Japanese, and backed by their strong and enterprising government, the occupation of Hawaii by the United States would be attended by difficulties which do not exist now. To let things drift unchecked in that direction is evidently dangerous. direction is evidently dangerous

Queen Lil's Abdication. We are waiting for further news from

Washington, to confirm or refute the report that Liliuokalani has declared her repudiation of the abdication which she so formally executed here two years ago. We look also to hear of some further action indicating her motive in that repudiation. The ex-queen made and executed that document of her own free and voluntary action. She was absolutely unsolicited by any person connected with the govern-ment, and acted apparently by the advice of her counsel, Paul Neumann, and of other friends. Her motive seemed to be to obtain favorable treatment from the government for herself and her associates in the insurrection for which they were undergoing trial. Very little importance was at the time attached by the government to her abdication, except as it served to show a disposition on her part to abandon her resistance to the government of the republic. Taken in connection with her subsequent very quiet and retiring de-meaner, her abdication doubtless contributed to her early release on parole, and to her subsequent pardon last September. Of that pardon she seems to have taken speedy advantage to go to Washington and renew her political activity.

Our papers are all refraining from any comment upon her action. The little roy alist sheet expresses incredulity. Appar-ently no serious importance is believed to attach to her repudiation. Her reported pretext for it is remarkable, that her signature to the act was irregular in form and therefore invalid. There is an un-seemliness about such a pretext which would seem unlikely to gain favorable regard for her in Washington

Probable Effect.

While we are sorry to see our old friend 'Lydia," as we used to call her, making such an exhibition of her less desirable qualities, we cannot be altogether unhappy to have her serve a good purpose by help ing to draw attention to the Hawaiian question, in the midst of clamor upon more pressing interests. Mrs. Dominis has rung a very jingling bell to advertise our little far-off country, not to mention the attendant antics of Sir Julius Palmer contributing to the general diversion. Our repre-sentatives, Smith, Hartwell and Thurston are on the ground, and extremely capable of handling the case in our behalf. President Dole may perhaps feel that he was dent Dole may perhaps feel that he was prematurely magnanimous in granting Mrs. Dominis a full pardon. He will be unlikely at once to grant similar pardons to the other leaders of the insurrection of '95, who are now out on parole.

What we deem a probable surmise is that Mrs. Dominis, having asserted herself as still queen, has followed it up by serving President Cleveland with a claim for further help in accordance with his former recognition of her alleged wrongs at the hands of Stevens and Wiltse. We fear that hands of Stevens and Whitse. We lear that the retiring President may have had his parting hours disquieted by some painful demand from the lady whose cause he so chivalrously but ineffectually championed three years ago. It cannot well be sup-posed that she has, without some import ant object, placed herself in an attitude of hestility to this government. She may be guessed to be seeking indemnity in some form at Washington, and naturally beginning by demands upon Mr. Cleveland, who was committed to her cause. We fear his "great and good friend" is not going to make his last moments peaceful. But we can only conjecture. Now is the time that a cable would come handy
